

A Blast of Fake News

First published June 5, 2022

Before we get started, I need to do my biannual fundraising appeal. It's been about six months since my last reminder. As you know, I don't have any ads, don't sell any products except four science books, and only post these reminders twice a year. I know times are tough for us all, since personally I have no underwriting, grants, or institutional affiliations of any kind. I have zero investments and don't even have a savings account, living pretty much hand-to-mouth. But I prefer it that way, since if I had any assets, I would just get sued immediately by about 50 parties. The only way I can do what I do is by having nothing. Some think that due to my self-confidence—which has been an issue lately—I must have private wealth or major support of some kind. Nope. I am currently renting two small rooms from a friend in his house, with more than half my stuff in storage, including all my painting supplies. I write these papers on a 15-year-old mac mini and a 17" screen, which everyone who visits comments on with wonder, as if I am greatly to be pitied. My printer is broken and has been for many years. My iphone is a gift from a reader and I rarely use it, forgetting to charge it about half the time. I am trying to get back on a ground line. I have no health insurance and don't really want any. Even so, I am not fishing for your sympathy, since I basically have just the life I always wanted—in most ways. I have absolute freedom, which is first on the list, and I have a huge and varied pile of artifacts with my name on them, to stand for me in the future. Which is just to say I wanted to be a real artist and scientist and writer and I am, so all the rest is trivial.

That said, reader support has helped keep me afloat over the past five years or so, and I really am grateful for it. It nicely fills in the rather large gaps between art sales, giving me a small, novel sense of security. So if you can continue to pitch me a few dollars in return for supplying you with reading material you cannot get anywhere else, I will continue to provide it. Paypal is the easiest way, using the kitties on my site, but you can also send me a check or anything else of value that occurs to you. Just email me for a POBox.

Now, a few more prefatory remarks before we get to the main course. Infowars just republished a piece from Dylano at Substack on deplatforming, which I have to admit I found somewhat amusing. Why? Because he is selling you deplatforming as something new, as if it just erupted along with Covid. But I suffered my first major deplatforming way back in 2006, when Yahoo Geocities dumped my website with no warning and no explanation. That was 16 years ago. I built my first website by hand on Geocities in about 2004, teaching myself to write html code, and it quickly gained a readership from those who had followed me at the Artrenewal Center. I had a few physics papers up, but most popular content in the beginning was art related. So why did Yahoo censor me? Possibly because I had recently attacked Wikipedia two months earlier, as far as possible blowing their cover. I had also attacked the NEA and the National Portrait Gallery, as well as the Museum of Modern Art, the McArthur Foundation and the Wall Street Journal. Yes, I was very busy even then.

On the physics side, I was blitzing Richard Feynman and many other people, having written 40 papers in 2005, my first big year in physics. I was already attacking Bohr and had recently solved the superposition problem. My simplification of the calculus was also published just two months before Yahoo censored me, so pinning down the single cause is not easy. At any rate, that was just the first of many site rebuilds forced upon me by the Phoenicians. I have been under heavy attack from the start, so the new round of censorship seems like just more of the same to me.

I learned very early on that these platforms like Yahoo, Facebook, and Twitter were not to be trusted. They had been created for just that purpose: control. People still tell me I should join substack or some such place and I just laugh. I learned my lesson in 2006 and am not likely to make the same mistake twice. If you are an independent writer, you need to build your own website on a private server and forget about these platforms, no matter what or where they are. "Platforms" are redundant. You don't need a platform. You just need a site. Your ability to speak freely is your most valuable asset, and it should trump all other considerations. Unless you are in it to make money, in which case I have nothing to say to you. In that case you aren't a journalist, you are just a hack, and you might as well be working for the man directly. He will provide you with a platform, you can be sure.

Now, let's briefly look at some of the headlines at Infowars and Zerohedge today. Infowars tops its page with a big fake picture of a nuclear explosion, and the story that Putin has now officially threatened to nuke Western cities, including US cities, if NATO continues to support Ukraine. Fake. US bankers created post-Revolution Russia*, and we have owned them ever since. They were our allies up to 1946 and still are, the whole Cold War thing being staged from the get-go. Putin is just another one of our actors, pulled out of some international actors equity composed of worldwide peers. Same goes for Zelensky, one of the worst actors ever. Orwell told us exactly how it would be in 1984, and everyone claims to have read it, so where is the mystery here? The entire conflict is staged to create fear and destabilization, and to get eyes off the vaccine crime against humanity. So how does Alex Jones, who sells himself as revolutionary #1, not know this? He hasn't read 1984?

Same thing with the lead story on Russia hitting a tank depot in Kiev with cruise missiles. As proof of that we get a picture of some smoke from a great distance.

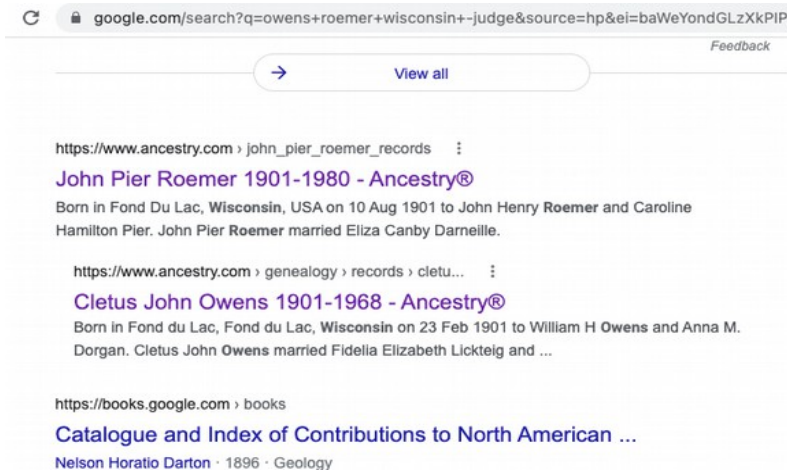

Speaking of Zelensky and Putin, am I the only one who has noticed that everyone hired by Jones seems to be Jewish? Tax expert Tyler Bennett was on today, not only looking and sounding very Jewish, but with the name Bennett as a huge clue as well. The Bennetts are closely related to the Queen and we have seen them in hundreds of top events over the centuries. Same for agent Kaitlyn Bennett, married to admitted Jew Justin Moldow. How can people not see through these people, just from their names and faces? Owen Shroyer is obviously Jewish, again just from his name and face. I don't have to dig any deeper than that. Rob Dew is probably Jewish, since Dew is a Jewish name, translated from the Hebrew Talia. See the Dews in the peerage related to the Breretons, Bonapartes, Talbots, and the Smiths of Nottingham (bankers). Also Josh Owens, former employee, Jewish. Also see Millie Weaver, with Weaver being a Jewish name. Harrison Smith's name is not obviously Jewish, but his face is. So perhaps he links to the Nottingham bankers as well. You will say these people can't link to British lines, but you are forgetting Infowars strange British contingent, including the brothers Watson, who pretend to be from council flats but are actually from wealth. So how did a red-faced screaming man on cable public access in Austin morph in just a few years into this multi-million-dollar enterprise with international correspondents, most of them Jewish? I think you are starting to see how. By the way, Jones admitted his wife is Jewish on the Howard Stern show.

Next we find an ex-judge was allegedly killed in a targeted assassination, by someone who also had Mitch McConnell on his list. Fake. We are actually supposed to believe that some guy named Douglas Uhde, previously sentenced by Judge John Pier Roemer, broke into his home and shot him gangland style in bed, but somehow got caught in the house? Uhde had never heard of a silencer? Who called police, the wife? If so, why didn't Uhde shoot her and walk? Actually, couldn't have been his wife, since her name is given as Vivian and they admit she died in 2018. Her maiden name was Schroeder. According to tombstones, they are related to surnames Hamilton and Pier. As in Pierpont.

Oh, and Judge Roemer was also a Lt. Colonel in the Army. What are the odds? We could have predicted it coming in. The police allegedly arrived and trapped Uhde in the basement, where they shot him. Because when you hear sirens, you don't flee out the back door, you flee into the basement. Uhde had a paper list on his person with McConnell's name on it! Yeah, because that is just how it works. All hitmen now carry paper lists in their jean's pockets as they hide in the basement hoping to get trapped. Another way we know this is fake is that the list also included Gov. Gretchen Whitmer and Gov. Tony Evers. You really have to be kidding me! Wasn't the FBI just outed by mainstream sources for faking the last Whitmer assassination attempt? The news on that has hardly cooled and they expect us to believe a new one? But I guess Alex Jones didn't know that, so he just reprinted this story without comment.

Douglas Uhde is blanketed in red flags, of course, since a people search on him finds he is related to Nancy Uhde, possibly a sister or wife. About the same age. Instantcheckmate takes us to Sheila A. Heiss when we search on this Nancy Uhde, which you have to admit is singular. The computer thinks it is the same person. She is also a Higgins and a Besonen. She also links to Lusky, Owens, and Carroll. Her father may be Brian Besonen of Brambleton, VA, which is just a stone's throw from Langley, about five miles north of Chantilly. Sharon Lusky on these pages has many red flag locations, including Minot, ND. She also has last names Higgins, Johnson, and Stricker, so she either liked to get married or she had aliases. Also related to George and Perry surnames. Her husband Julius Lusky has Livermore, CA, on his list. He links us to the name Kronmal, also of Livermore, including Greg Kronmal at Illumina, a gene sequencing lab—connecting us to today's headlines in another way. The Kronmals link us to the Rosenbergs, just so you know. So we have the Jewish link again, as usual. All these people are Jewish, including Douglas Uhde. Heiss is a Jewish name. So is Roemer, so I was looking for a link between Uhde and Judge Roemer. I didn't find it on a quick search, but I bet they are related. We do link to an Andreas Weiger of Alexandria, VA. But wait, it appears they are linked through the Owens. We find a Cletus John Owens of Fond du Lac, WI, related to John Pier Roemer, b. 1901 (so probably our judge's father?) of the same town. We find Judge Roemer's mother was Eliza Canby Darneille. We just found these same Owens linked to Douglas Uhde through his wife Nancy, real name Sheila Heiss. As indication we are on the right track, we find that the elder John Pier Roemer's page is missing at ancestry.com, as if was recently deleted or blocked. The wayback machine has also been scrubbed of that page.

See how Cletus is indented? That means that page is linked to the one above it, so we are being told by the computer that Cletus is related to John Pier in those pages at Ancestry. But if you click on John Pier, you get nothing. Just a white page.

Next we have two stories on red flag gun laws supposedly targeting conservatives or Republicans. But of course those will never pass. Boebert already admitted these new events are only used to sell MORE guns, and she was right on that one. Second Amendment threats are only manufactured to make people think they should buy while they still can, since the usual suspects now own all the gun companies. Their profits have gone through the roof in the past twenty years, and Uvalde is just a repeat of 2012's Sandy Hook—which caused record gun sales and no gun grabbing. We have more proof of that next day, as a lead story is that gun shops in Canada sold out the week after Trudeau announced he would be freezing sales.

Speaking of Uvalde, today's story is funeral home worker and moonlighting pastor Gilbert Limones, who is now claiming to be one of the first shot at by Ramos.

Another lying scumbag spook with his various Phoenician lapel pins. We are told he has a congregation of 35 at the Casa El Shaddai, which figures. What is that, a Hispanic/Jewish temple or a mosque? Just so you know, “el shaddai” isn't Spanish for “the shed” or something, it is Hebrew/Phoenician, and El is the god of the Phoenicians, same as Ba'al or Saturn. Shaddai means “destroyer”, which is appropriate here. You should also know that Limones is a Marrano/Jewish name and he looks Marrano. Think of actor Jack Lemmon. Check out the church's strange website, which appears just to have gone up today. It has zero information about the “church”, including worship times, or even what denomination this is. Who exactly in Uvalde is praying to El the destroyer? It sounds like something out of Ghostbusters. It says it is opening at 7pm on Wednesday. Is that last Wednesday or the Wednesday coming up? It then says “Get Quote”. What? A quote on what? On your soul? Or is the church selling penances?

Google maps has a picture of the location 509 S. Getty, dated May 2022, so they are making this very easy for us.

I guess they just haven't put up their signs yet. The belltower goes in Thursday. The fiery pits go in on Saturday.

We are told this is an old restaurant converted into a worship space, where Limones preached his first sermon since the murders. That implies he was preaching somewhere else before that, but of course they don't bother to tell us where that was. If he was a pastor before this, why not hold these meetings at his old space? No answer to that begged question.

This Limones story was obviously manufactured to repeat the claim that the shooter Ramos entered through a school door that failed to lock when a teacher pulled it shut. Limones claims he saw it happen. But that story makes no sense because we were just told Limones ran off terrified and called 911, so he could not have been in sight of the shooter at that point. If he had been able to see the shooter and the door, then the shooter would have been able to see him, and could have continued shooting at him. You see how that works? It is called line of sight, and it works both ways.

They needed to hammer that lie home, since it was a newer lie. It had changed several times, and there exists no good story for how the shooter got in. School doors don't just malfunction for the benefit of fake news stories. Even worse, they are now admitting there was a standdown, with all law enforcement being told not to enter and pursue. You aren't supposed to ask the natural question: told by whom and why? Since the obvious answer is the locals were ordered not to enter by the Feds, and the reason is because the whole thing was staged. Ramos was just an actor and no one died. It was yet another grand fiction sold as real, to create fear and destabilization and get eyes off the vaccine crime against humanity. We have seen even more easy evidence of that, as local police are now refusing to cooperate with State and Federal officials. Why would they do that if the event were real? If the event were real, the locals would cooperate in every way possible, so this is perfect proof some locals—including local law enforcement—aren't happy the Feds staged this thing on their turf.

It's awfully convenient our man Limones above just happens to work at Hillcrest as a funeral worker, since Hillcrest is directing at least five of the fake funerals. Look for lots of cremations and closed coffins, as well as sealed autopsies and secret burials. The usual runaround.

The article claims open caskets and photos of the dead in the Uvalde papers, but they mean photos of the dead when they were alive. No photos of the dead have yet surfaced, that I know of, and if they do we can be sure they were faked. This is all we have so far, which proves nothing.

In fact, I think girl 6 and girl 8 are the same girl. Same face shape, same chin, same lazy left eye. That's why the pic of girl 6 is strange-looking: it has been tampered with to hide the match.

We learn something else about the event in this article, where we are told wounded teacher Reyes runs a small plant and gift store when not teaching. Really? That's retail, so how do you run a retail store while teaching at a public school all week?

We also find that Robb Elementary will not reopen, which is convenient: they are preparing to demolish another fake crime scene, like they did with Sandy Hook.

Just so you understand how weird this event was, let's look at two of the other victims, as published in mainstream papers:

Those photos are tagged as Eliahana Torres and Nevaeh Bravo, both age 10. Really? Both are ten, are they? Then why does the first girl look more like 12-13, with breasts and hips, and the second girl looks about six? Yes, girls grow up fast these days, with so many chemicals in the food and water, but are you telling me they couldn't find a more recent photo of Nevaeh? She didn't appear in any class pictures in the past four years? And what's with these weird names? We also have Uziah Garcia and Rojelio Torres and Jailah Siguero and Alithia Ramirez and Aniyah Rubio and Maite Yuleana. Who is naming these kids, the BORG? But seriously, those are joke names, since they are all obscure Hebrew names from the Old Testament. Hispanics in South Texas aren't giving their kids names like that. It is another clue here as to who is staging this.

And we find another irony: if we look closely at Eliahana's jersey, we see it says "Uvalde Little League". Guess who sponsors Little League in Uvalde? Exile Firearms. That's cozy, ain't it?

Then we have Makenna Lee Elrod, a little blonde princess supposedly going to school with these poor Hispanics in Uvalde. She looks private school all the way.

Also remember we just saw a famous Elrod in Lestrade's Wake Island paper last week! How's that for a strange confluence? There we saw Henry Talmadge Elrod, famous Marine aviator who supposedly attacked 22 Japanese planes by himself and survived. He shot down two and sank a destroyer solo as well. His wife Elizabeth Hogun Jackson just happened to be the niece of 4-star Admiral Richard Harrison Jackson—whose mother was Sarah Cabell Perkins. And yes, this admiral was related closely to Andrew Jackson and well as the Harrison presidents.

That's a lovely paste-up of the tiny Admiral Jackson with Admiral Dennison, Admiral Standley, Gen. Holland Smith, and Admiral of the Fleet Chester Nimitz (standing). So these Elrods have been at it for a while.

How do I know that photo is fake at a glance? Many ways. One, Dennison is the only one in uniform, which makes no sense. The event would dictate the dress code. We also see a light halo around Standley, where he meets Dennison, showing up the paste. See Standley's shoulder, which should not be casting a bright halo onto Dennison. Standley is also casting the wrong shadow back on Dennison and Jackson. The shadow is shaped like a military hat, but Standley isn't wearing a hat, indicating his head was pasted in. Then we see that Jackson and Nimitz are hard lit from the side by a window, giving them that bright white outline to the right. The others don't have that, being lit from the front.

Makenna's father Brandon Elrod has Floresville on his list, which is famous as a Hollywood hangout, with many films being shot there. And guess what, he has an IMDB page, just as I predicted. He is a minor screenwriter, so maybe he is the one who wrote this script for Uvalde. My guess is Makenna was named for someone in the family with the surname McKenna, maybe her mom, possibly linking us to superspook Terence McKenna. So it is strange no mother is given for this fake victim. In pursuit of that, we find a Dayse Adams Elrod on Brandon's list, which may be a grandmother. We are getting closer already, since Terence McKenna was related to Adams. He was related to all Presidents, and two Presidents were Adams. The Elrods of Uvalde also link us to Lee Ann Kramer, who then links us to Lesoskys and Barings. So we continue to advance. Think Barings Bank, and Lesosky is also Jewish. We link to Charles William Baring who had an obit in Austin in 2009. He was in the military and his sister married a Vandenberg. He was with the Dept. of Veterans Affairs. Then we have his grandson, Ethan Baring of Spring, TX, also of Silver Spring, MD, which is probably CIA, being just across the river. His mother Nancy also has Silver Spring on her list, definitely indicating Feds of some sort. The Lesoskys link us to a Laura Shaver, who has Alexandria, VA, on her list, as well as Colorado Springs, again indicating military. Trevor Shaver, 40, also has Alexandria on his list, as well as Uvalde. Audrey Shaver Bliss links us to Welborns, who link us to Martinez, who may link us to the Uvalde event. In fact, we find Nubia Leiva on the Welborn/Martinez list, and Leiva=Levy. And she has Ruben Salas, 61, of Uvalde on her list. Strangely, he has been completely scrubbed at Intelius and Instantcheckmate.

Brandon's brother is given as Casey in published reports, and his wife is Crystal Blazek, formerly Debakey. She also links us to Maryland, including Elkridge. She has two listings and two ages, 37 and 40, which is strange. She links us to a Lora Rushing, 63, of Whiteman Air Force Base, MO. The Blazeks link us to the Scarboroughs, including Wyman Beck Scarborough, d. 2019. They are Mormons, giving us that again. We found the same thing in my first paper on Uvalde. We also find them related to Armstrongs, which again links us back to the King Ranch. Wyman's daughter-in-law is Kristin Scarborough, aka Kristin Lowe, aka Kristin Spain, aka Kristin Hodges, age 37. So at least three marriages by age 37? Or are those aliases?

So let's return to the Elrods of Uvalde. We also find a Tessa Morgan Lechinger Elrod on these lists, connecting us again to MD and Colorado Springs. She links us to a guy named Flaxon Lance Elrod, 34, her husband. No, seriously. He is a financial advisor in Houston, so these are not white trash people. According to documents posted online, he previously worked for Royal Alliance Associates and now works for Next Step Financial Transitions. Unfortunately I found no company by that exact name. There is a Next Step Financial in Boston headed by Rhodes, so that may be it. You wouldn't expect these sorts of links for a random victim in Uvalde. . . but I did. We have seen it in all previous events, where fake victims turned out to be from highly connected families. I guess they just send these kids to Europe for a few years until this blows over. If they exist at all. Pretty sure this Makenna Elrod wasn't enrolled in public school in Uvalde.

We also link to Chris Wiebush, 62, wife of Bernard Elrod. That helps us because the Wiebuschs were early settlers of Texas, coming from Germany with the King Ranch exodus. They were related to the Schumanns. They were among the oldest white families in Uvalde, and the money bet is that they were related to the McConaugheys. Remember, Matthew McConaughey named his first boy Levi, giving us a huge clue. If you are a Gentile, would you name your son Levi? Didn't think so. Which reminds us that Matthew is scrubbed at Intelius. According to their computer no one by that name lives in Austin. Instantcheckmate has never heard of him, either. According to Ethnicelebs, his grandmother is a King, confirming the King Ranch links. He is also a Dandridge, linking him to George Washington through his wife. He is also a Maitland, remember, linking him closely to the Stewarts/Stuarts and Jimmy Stewart, who was James Maitland Stewart. How did you think someone who can't act got into Hollywood? He's also a Fasbender and a Nugent, linking him to Michael and Ted. He is also a Maher and a Condon. Lots more Jewish names. See director William Condon (most famous for Gods and Monsters), sold as Irish Catholic but actually Jewish. There is no such thing as an Irish Catholic director in Hollywood.

But let's move on: that horse is so dead we could carbon date it.

Next we find at Infowars a story on Elon Musk asking why the DOJ hadn't leaked the client list of Jeffrey Epstein and Ghislaine Maxwell. A better question is why it is taking 7 months between her conviction and her sentencing. Normally you sentence someone directly after their conviction, since there is no reason to wait months to do so. Except when the trial is fake and Maxwell isn't in jail and never was. Which of course answers Elon's question. The list isn't being leaked because there is no list. The whole thing was manufactured as more high profile fake news to get eyes off other things and to allow Epstein to retire to his private island in peace, taking his stolen millions with him with no hope of prosecution. You can't prosecute a dead man. Also to promote Men-are-Pigs and Women-are-Pigs.

Do you really think Bill Clinton is on that list? Epstein was supposedly setting up these people with young girls. Clinton had no interest in girls. Neither does Bill Gates or any of the rest of those people, since they are all pederasts. And I would assume that includes Elon Musk, who appears to have no interest in women except as beards. Which is why we see him chuckling while he asks this stupid question to no one on Twitter. He claims he is asking it because “he doesn't have enough enemies”, but if you believe that you need serious help from Mars.

So let's see what's happening over at Zerohedge today. There we see that House Judiciary Committee Dems are pushing forward the gun bill. Except that. . . it has only been about a week since Nadler and those other jerks admitted they didn't have the votes for that. It would have to pass the Senate, and won't, so all this is just another waste of your reading time.

Then we have the black New York attorneys linked to BLM who allegedly firebombed a police car with officers inside, with the Justice department massively reducing the charges. This is also an obvious fake, and they nod to me for the second time this week by naming one of the people Colinford Mattis—as if he is a cousin of mine. Just another joke out of Langley. There was also a Mathis in the Uvalde hoax, see vicim Miranda Mathis. These “attorneys” are just more CIA actors hired to start a race war. All the riots in the summer of 2020 were the same sort of stageplays, with actors from BLM, Antifa, and many other groups. In 2021 this morphed into the staged event at the Capitol, where even more fake groups from both sides came together, including Proud Boys, Gatekeepers, and others. In reality, all the actors there were Air Force, CIA, or other military or intel groups, and not one of them is now in jail in DC. That is all a fake as well. Remember when the Republican congresspeople weren't allowed to see them? That's because they weren't there. You can't see people who don't exist. The George Floyd event was also staged, as was the Kyle Rittenhouse event.

Another headline at Zero tells us Biden is already as unpopular as Trump. What? Biden is far more unpopular, with numbers never seen before for a President in his first 18 months. Every month they tell us Biden's numbers have hit all-time lows, but then tell it is something like 39%. It was 39% nine months ago, and has been in a freefall ever since. Half the country hated him to start with, and since he never did one thing right, he soon lost another 10%. I think he was around 40% by summer of 2021. The last year has been the worst in the history of the country, and absolutely no one awake could approve of it. Real polls would put his approval down with Congress, which has continually hovered around 9% for decades. That is the 9% of adults who can't read and can't see out their windows.

I never liked Trump, but be honest: he was like Marcus Aurelius compared to Biden. And that is no accident: you are supposed to hate Biden because all this is a planned fail. It is a planned fail of the Jimmy Carter sort, as they crash the Democratic Party on purpose so that they can bring in a new Reagan and drive the country hard right again. They have a minty new fascism for you, of the WEF type, complete with pits and chains and Mt. Dooms belching smoke, and to herd you into it they have to destroy the old political left once and for all. They have to make you think nothing remains of the liberalism of Jefferson but trannies and groomers and pedophiles and green-haired social justice warriors. They want you to think the progressives who once pushed for equal rights for women and minorities are now BLM activists firebombing the police and crazed abortionists eating fetuses. Which is why real blacks and women and gays are as appalled by what is going on as you are. They aren't for it because they can see they are being blackwashed. They can see that all their progress is being reversed by this manufactured backlash. Normal people are sick to death of trannies and pride parades and aggressive feminists and blacks accusing everyone of being racists and white supremacists and noisy socialists of all stripes, from Greta to Hillary to Whoopi. And by normal people I don't just mean conservatives or Republicans. I mean pretty much all real people on both sides of the aisle. They are sick of it, top to bottom.

Reds aren't the only ones buying guns like they are going out of stock, you know. Dems are buying them and women and blacks and Hispanics. And the truth is they aren't buying them mainly to use against each other. Some think they will soon have to hunt for food, others think they will have to stop the government from taking their children or their homes or their gold or their savings, others think they will have to defend against gangs or pirates or marauders. As I say, that fear has been planted in them on purpose, expressly to get them to buy more guns. The governors are happy for you to buy guns, just like they are happy for you to watch porn or use drugs. All those things are cash cows for them. They want you as riddled with anxieties and vices as possible, because only in that way do you maximize your profitability for them. Only in that way do you minimize your resistance. Drugged and confused people are incapable of revolution or any other meaningful resistance. At worst these people kill themselves or a couple of neighbors. They never kill anyone of import since they lack the wherewithal to achieve it. So they don't care if you have a hundred AR15s. You only have two hands and no target, so you are no menace to them in that regard.

You are more a real problem for them if you are a reader of mine, and you come to understand how things really work. In that case you can say no to all their schemes, which require your ignorance and complicity to come to fruition. All resistance starts with knowledge, which is why they have kept you in the dark about almost everything.

About the only real and good news I found at Infowars was next day, that being that Pfizer has now admitted in internal documents that it has no plans to ever manufacture Comirnaty, the vaccine approved by the FDA and Congress. The vaccine everyone has been getting all along was the emergency-use Biontech. Meaning the approval was just a bait and switch and a con, since no real vaccine was ever approved for anything. Proving my analysis in August 2021 was spot-on. It is also perfect proof of fraud by Pfizer, which should nullify their liability waiver. They are now open to lawsuits for vaccine damage and I look forward to their bankruptcy. But that isn't enough. Bankruptcy isn't enough for those people. They should be tried in a special court, convicted of mass murder, and hanged, the whole lot of them.

*See None Dare Call it Conspiracy and hundreds of other books, which admit it.

Remember how she was arrested and indicted in 2020, claiming no knowledge she was up for indictment? Then two months later the charges were dropped and the indictment abandoned. She was supposedly indicted for fraud, but then pulled in $170,000 in donations to fight charges that were immediately dropped. All we saw of the arrest were the shoetops of the police, though it isn't against the law to film officers arresting you at your own home. So was that whole thing faked?
